Campaign Update

March 3, 2010 | ISSUE 14

Volunteer Opportunities are still available

IMAGINATION IN BLOOM

“Imagination in Bloom” is a new week-long volunteer effort being coordinated to encourage children to read. The program is being coordinated around child-care agencies receiving funding from United Way of Greater Stark County. Volunteers will be placed at child-care agencies to read to classes of children. Volunteers are asked to bring book(s) to read to children and encouraged to supply and coordinate an age-appropriate craft or activity for their class. The project will run during the week of March 15th.

Projects are still available! Many of the projects available are for small groups of 1-3 individuals. Projects will only last 2 hours on the assigned day. If you are interested in participating, please click here.

Thanks!

Thanks to all of you who took the time to complete our coordinator survey! We appreciate your time and input regarding campaign materials. Any time you have a question, idea or thought to share please tell us! Click here to provide comments.
